Nathan Varns is guest speaker at SCS meeting

Nathan Varns, Soil Conservationist, recently assigned to the Appomattox-Campbell Soil Conservation Service, (SCS), office was guest speaker at the last meeting of the Robert E. Lee Soil Conservation District, (SWCD). Varns is a native of Indiana and graduated from Purdue University majoring in international agronomy. He served in the Peace Corps in Malaysia, then worked with SCS in Harrisonburg before continuing his training at Appomattox.

Varns presented slides on farming and conservation in Malaysia and other parts of Asia. "They have an average rainfall of 130 inches in parts of Malaysia and rice is their chief food crop" the conservationist noted.

In other business, Bob McClenny, District Conservationist, SCS, discussed the new conservation program proposed by the U. S. Department of Agriculture, (USDA). The new program moves away from the "cafeteria" or "first come, first served" approach of the traditional conservation programs. It targets conservation activities towards reducing the most serious erosion problems that impair the Nation's agricultural productivity. Agriculture Secretary Block wants your opinions on the future of soil and water conservation. "His perferred program is ready for review and comment," McClenny said. Copies of the report are available from local SCS or ASCS offices.

McClenny also disoussed the Piedmont Bright Leaf Erosion Control Area which encompasses 13 counties in North Carolina and 14 counties in Virginia. Virginia Counties are those having sizeable tobacco acreages: Amelia, Brunswick, Campbell, Charlotte, Dinwiddie, Franklin, Greenville, Halifax, Henry, Lunenburg, Mecklenburg, Nottoway, Pittsylvania, and Prince Edward. Tobacco accounts for 80% of the income from crops. Average annual soil loss on the cropland subject to erosion is 18 tons per acre. This erosion rate is over twice the state average and is 3½ times greater than the loss that the soils can tolerate without deteriorating. A 10 year program is being planned for the targeted counties to reduce erosion, improve irrigation water management, increase soil productivity, reduce water pollution, and improve the income of the farmers. "If conservation funds can be trageted for this tobacco area, we can get a lot of conservation work done" McClenny concluded.

Copies of the Robert E. Lee SWCD's Annual Report are available. A copy can be obtained through the District Office at P. O. Box 248, Appomattox, Va.

Attention: Taxpayers of Appomattox County

Awake citizens of Appomattox County and look around you. Are you aware of the taxpayers dollars that are going to make subsidized payments for residents of Appomattox County that do not qualify for this type of plan?

Let your voice be heard. Contact your FHA office and demand an investigation into the situation. Because a person receiving assistance will not tell the truth, the FHA office reports their hands are tied. This should not stop here.

What do you think is your duty in correcting this matter?

Locals attend meeting

John W. Hix of Pamplin, and Dennis W. Torrence, Appomattox representing the Robert E. Lee Soil and Water Conservation District, attended the Goodyear Conservation Awards Program held in Litchfield Park, Ariz. on Dec. 11-14.

Participants were 106 officials and outstanding cooperators from the first place districts in the competition sponsored by The Goodyear Tire and Rubber Company in cooperation with the National Association of Conservation Districts (NACD).

Scheduled events on the three-day, vacation study program were tours of the 12,300 acre Goodyear Farms, a pioneer in desert agriculture and a proving ground for farm equipment and methods since 1917; an address by Goodyear President Robert E. Mercer, and visits to various points of interest in the Phoenix area.

The Goodyear Conservation Awards Program provides recognition to conservation districts and individual conservationists in the 50 states, Puerto Rico and the Virgin Islands. Nearly 3,300 grand award winners have made the previous trips to Arizona and Florida since the program began in 1947.

Phone show set

Continental Telephone in Amherst will hold its Phone Fair Grand Opening, Friday, December 18. John L. Denney, Mayor of Amherst, will cut the ribbon in a ceremony at 11:30 a.m. The Phone Fair, on Second Street, is designed to save money for Continental customers.

According to Amherst Customer Service Manager Spence Kiser, "The Phone Fair is a telphone purchase store where Continental customers may buy their own telephones, pay telephone bills, or receive assistance on service or billing problems."

Kiser said that customers who come to the Phone Fair and buy or pick up their telephones save at least six dollars over those customers having the company install their telphones. In addition, those customers who own their telephones do not pay the monthly rental fee on the telephone.

The hours of operation of the Phone Fair will be 9 a.m. to 5:00 p.m., Monday through Friday.

The Phone Fair carries more than 100 types of telephones including everything from the new Flip phone to a variety of character telephones. Included among the character phones are Mickey Mouse, Snoopy and Woodstock, and Winnie the Pooh. The phone store also carries numerous telephone recording devices and answering services as well as the new cordless Freedom Phone.

WHAT THESE BANKERS DO WHEN THEY'RE NOT AT THE BANK SAYS A LOT ABOUT THEM WHEN THEY ARE.

We expect a lot from our bankers at the bank. And they expect a lot of themselves away from the bank. It's all part of being a Central Fidelity person. Through the years, and throughout Virginia, Central Fidelity people have done more than is expected of them at work and in their communities.

These are just a few of the hundreds of Central Fidelity people who are working every day in Boy Scouts. Junior Achievement. Volunteer fire fighters. Rescue squads. Churches. And countless other activities that take a lot of personal time and effort.

At Central Fidelity, we're proud of these people. They've helped us become a two billion dollar bank. And, at the same time, they've found the time and energy to give something back to their communities. They're an important part of the bank that works for Virginians.
